- DESIGN OF COMBINE COOLING AND HEATING SYSTEM

In Combine cooling and heating system Cooler is particularly configured application of any selected design and any design may be easily apply to shaded coolers configuration.Cooler has structure for ease of mounting of different object. An energy saving cover, used for coolers, an oversized, top portion provided a sufficient overhang about all four sides of cooler for shading purpose. Insulative side of water pad each associated with each of the side of cooler are positioned a predetermined distance, aware to allow sufficient air flow to improve cooling & heating efficiency of cooler during corresponding season. During corresponding season, both heating coils come in action and & shut-off as per requirement of cold & hot air. The lid can selectively retain cold or warm packs, to cool or heat the interior. By introducing heating coils, VCR circuit's advantage, we can extend application of cooler.
